

A Master Welder since 1985, Jay Lesher has a stellar reputation and is a respected leader in the craft beer industry, known for brewing, building, repairing, designing, and inventing since 1995.

Jay was named one of the top innovators in the brewery industry in All About Beer.

Jay invented
THE SPINPOT 5000
in 2013.

Currently working at the world-renowned Cigar City Brewing Company in Tampa, Florida, many of Jay's inventions are still used on a daily basis.

Jay Lesher aka Jay The Welder

Jay invited several brewery owners and engineers to experience

THE SPINPOT 5000

as it was in use, infusing wood spirals to an IPA.

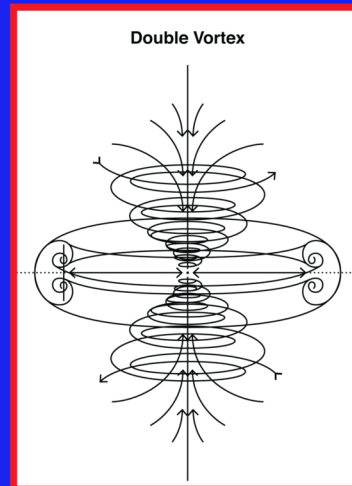

All were in agreement that they were witnessing the future of Infusion Technology for the Craft Brewing Industry.

Inventor Jay The Welder says that the secret is in the

which gives the most sufficient contact time to the ingredients.

When you master how to reformulate your recipes by reducing your ingredients and contact time,

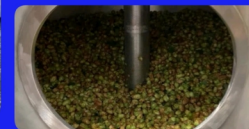

THE SPINPOT 5000

will have your Brewmaster THINKING OUTSIDE THE BREW KETTLE and designing new beers that were formerly impossible to do on a larger scale . . .

THE SPINPOT 5000

Use it to hop back as well as dry hop . . . use it from the kettle to your bright tank to barrel blending and much more . . .

Much easier and much safer than the old ecstatic infusion flavoring makes is a colossal timesaver.

HOW MANY WAYS WILL YOU USE IT AT YOUR BREWERY?

Although we do not involved in designing recipes, we can assist in showing how to get the most out of

at your brewery.

We understand with this new innovation, there may be a bell curve to learn and understand HOW works.

Our SOP that Jay and other owners of this innovative technology have put together a SOP helping you bend that bell curve and get you up and running when finds a new home at your brewery.
